

Private 1-1 & Exclusive Group Retreats at The Huachuma Project

Transformative Healing in Nature – Tailored Just for You

At The Huachuma Project, we offer private and exclusive group retreats designed to meet your unique needs for deep personal healing, spiritual growth, and connection with nature. Whether you are seeking a private 1-1 journey or wish to share the experience with close friends or family, our bespoke retreat packages provide a safe, supportive space for transformative plant medicine ceremonies in the heart of Portugal's Algarve.

Our retreats are built around the sacred Huachuma (San Pedro cactus) ceremonies, guided by Medicine Man and founder, Austin Romero. Each retreat is carefully curated, offering a combination of plant medicine, therapeutic support, and integration practices to help you explore your inner world, release old patterns, and connect with your true self.

What to Expect

- Tailored Retreat Experience: Each retreat is personalized to your specific intentions and needs, whether you're seeking healing, clarity, or spiritual connection. Your journey will unfold in a safe, heart-centered space, supported by Austin and a dedicated team of experienced healers.
- Accommodation & Meals: Stay in serene, off-grid accommodations nestled on a 115-acre valley of eucalyptus and woodland. Whether you prefer the comfort of a yurt, canvas tent, or one of our cozy houses, your stay is designed for relaxation and rejuvenation. Meals are prepared with health and healing in mind, and while they are largely plant-based, dietary needs are fully customizable based on your personal preferences and retreat requirements.

- Ceremonies: Engage in two full-day San Pedro ceremonies, allowing you to experience the depth of this heart-opening medicine. Optional Kambo cleanses are available for those seeking additional physical and energetic detoxification. Additional San Pedro or Kambo ceremonies can be arranged upon request, with pricing adjusted to reflect these choices.
- Exclusive Attention: With private retreats, the experience is designed solely around you or your group. Whether you come alone or with loved ones, you'll receive personalized care and support to guide you through your journey with plant medicine.
- Integration: Healing doesn't stop when the retreat ends. We place a strong emphasis on integration, providing tools and guidance to help you bring the insights from the ceremonies back into your everyday life. Austin and his team remain available for post-retreat support to ensure your continued growth and transformation.
